Urban EE PLC Webinar Series

Join us for our webinar series of the Urban EE Collective's Learning Community (PLC), a space for the sharing of ideas and experiences and the building of knowledge through a collaborative and democratic process that promotes equity and respect. This PLC is presented by the EECapacity Project, which supports environmental education and youth and community development in the US, Canada, and Mexico.

How to participate?

There is no need to register for each individual webinar, all you need to do is become a member of the PLC by enrolling into our CourseSites learning site for free. There you can find our detailed calendar of events with all future webinars, links and other information needed to access the live or recorded sessions.

Defining goals and priorities for the Urban EE PLC

We want to hear from you. During our last webinar we initiated a discussion around priorities for this PLC. We have moved our discussion to the online forums on CourseSites. This is your opportunity to share your needs and ideas: What do you want to see happen with this group? which topics and resources would help you improve your practice? What questions about urban EE need to be answered by this group? Join the discussion.
